Web of Science

Provides access to the world's premier citation indexes

- Science Citation Index Expanded (SCI-EXPANDED)--2000-present
- Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI)--2000-present
- Arts & Humanities Citation Index (A&HCI)--2000-present

A key feature of Web of Science is the ability to do cited reference searching. Cited reference searching enables you to find articles that have cited a previously published work. Through a cited reference search, you can discover how a known idea or innovation has been confirmed, applied, improved, extended, or corrected.

To start:

Go to Databases and Ejournals page

<http://w2.vu.edu.au/library/einet/wos.html>

General Search:

The General Search option allows you to enter words or phrases into any one of a number of search fields. These include Topic, Author, Group Author, Source Title and Address.

Type your keywords into the textbox. Eg. hydrocarbons AND contract

The asterisk (*) after the word contract will find contract, contracts, contractile, etc...

Click on the search button to begin your search.
