SIRLS COLLECTION

The SIRLS (Specialised Information Retrieval and Library Services) microfiche collection contains more than 20,000 articles from journals, books, theses, conference proceedings and unpublished papers.

It was produced by the University of Waterloo, Canada, between 1980 and 1990 and covers the literature of sport, leisure, play, games and dance with particular emphasis on sociological, anthropological, historical, philosophical and political aspects.

ACCESS DETAILS

Sport Discus database contains all records of the SIRLS microfiche collection

- When you search this database some of your search results may be available from the SIRLS microfiche collection
- This is useful if we don’t hold the journal in which the article might also be published (see below)

The Sport Discus article listed below is published in a journal which is not available in VU library but it is available full-text from SIRLS

- the SIRC Holdings Information includes SIRLS Doc. No.: AM316

The full-text of the article will be available from the SIRLS microfiche collection arranged under this number

- SIRC Article Nos. and SIRLS ID Nos. are not useful for finding full-text
VIEWING AND PRINTING
The SIRLS microfiche collection is:
  • located in special drawers in Footscray Park campus library on Level 4.
  • arranged in 2 alphanumeric sequences:
    A-Z
    AA-AZ

In the case of our example from the previous page the SIRLS Doc. No. is AM316. It is in the second alphanumeric sequence.
  • microfiche reader/printer is located near the microfiche collection on Level 4
  • printing is free

Please do not replace the microfiche yourself. Leave them in the sorting boxes on top of the drawers.